Without regard to the highly unfavorable weather conditions prevailing and in a surprisingly short time after the successful British thrust of last week, the British and French forces in Belgium have launched another heavy attack on the Germans.

The blow fell early today in the village east and northeast of Ypres, where Crown Prince Rupprecht's lines had already been shattered by General Jack by the previous British thrust.

The British command early reported satisfactory progress on all parts of the front of the attack which was made in conjunction "with our allies on our left."

Shortly afterward the Paris official statement indicated clearly that the French forces in Flanders were those headed by the British commander-in-chief. The launching of an attack in concert with the British was announced and the favorable development of the attack reported.

FRANCIS FORCES IN FLANDERS DRIVE

A considerable force of French troops took part in the beginning of the Flanders drive on July 31 and in the subsequent fighting that consolidated the ground won by them from both northern and southern Langemarck as far north as Dixmude.

This section of the front remained comparatively quiet while the British to the south were renewing their drive last month. Apparently the time is considered opportune for bringing the line to the north more nearly on the level with the advanced British front. The French attack today extended as far to the north as Houthoist forest, about five miles toward the coast from Dixmude.

It had been pointed out that with the salient parts of the Passchendaele-Belvieu ridge in their hands, as the result of their success last week, the British were in a position to push further east towards the Menin-Roulers railway line. This invaluable line of communication for the Germans between their bases in southwestern Belgium and northern France and their Belgian coast positions was already commanded by the British guns.

MORALE OF TEUTON ARMIES IS IMPAIRED

The renewed push is in the direction of this line, which before this morning's attack began was about five and one-half miles distant from the point of the British wedge at Broodseinde.

Numerous indications have been found, according to reports from the Flanders front, that the German morale in this sector had notably deteriorated under the crushing blows of the British and their overwhelming artillery superiority. Lack of the former vigor in the German counter-attacks and their comparative infrequency are cited as corroborative of this.

The theory is thus suggested that, despite the unfavorable weather conditions, Field Marshal Haig decided to let the Germans stand and play while they were still stronger from the effects of their defeat last week, and that he will further their already precarious hold on western Belgium, possibly to the point where they would be compelled to let go.

At many places the French and British have advanced to a depth of 200 yards or more.

New Draft Plans Are Completed

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Plans for calling up the next draft of designated for the national army will be completed tonight. They are ready for the approval of Secretary of War Baker and will be submitted to him at a conference by Major-General Crowder, commanding general.

The exact number of men who are to be called up in about the only question still undecided. That, however, is a detail inasmuch as General Crowder has determined that a majority, if not all of the eligibles will be summoned without delay for physical examination and to file exemptions if the latter are claimed so that eligibles will know exactly how they stand in the list.

Revolutionary changes are to be made in the methods, General Crowder indicated today.

Complete advantage is to be taken of every mistake that was made in the first call. Much of the dissatisfaction that resulted in every instance during the calling up of the first men was due to ignorance because a complete new plan had to be evolved, as it were, "from the air." This will not be necessary in the future.

The most radical change will be in the method of medical examination. The number of men who were drafted and afterwards sent home because they failed to measure up to the strict medical standard was far too large. General Crowder and his aides admitted this. Put this was due to the fact that the local boards were not directed to carry their physical examination out to the limit, which strict compliance with the regulations made mandatory at the concentration camps. All this will be changed in the next draft. The examination will be complete in every way and the man who passes the doctors will be certain they will be retained when they are called for active service.

Whether all of the men still on the eligible list will be examined was a question on which General Crowder was dumb today. He called attention, however, to the fact that he has some $4,000,000 available for use in continuing the work of his bureau and this money will go a long way in conducting examination.

NOT ENOUGH TO DELIVER WARNING

"In these days of self-sacrifice it is not enough to tell our children that it is our solemn, sacred and patriotic duty to make sacrifices. We must do more than that. We must see that our boys and girls put into daily practice the spirit of sacrifice and reasonable economy."

"We are ready and glad to assume our responsibility. But we alone cannot do it. The co-operation of parents are urgently needed. In no sense presuming on parental prerogative, we suggest that parents supplement our efforts to eliminate the waste of food and paper on the part of some of our public life,"

"Our attempts to develop and establish habits of economy as an exemplary patriotic duty. If parents will work with us by impressing on the children urgent need for economy at this time our united efforts will bring about results."

According to a telegram received here by his son, McBride was standing on a street corner when he was struck by a runaway horse and knocked through a plate glass window. He received severe lacerations in the leg and is suffering from shock and great loss of blood, an artery having been severed.

McBride, who once was president of the American Federation of Labor and is one of the best known labor leaders in the West, accompanied the commission headed by Secretary Watson from Phoenix to Globe. When the first strike of miners occurred last spring at Jerome, McBride was named as conciliator and sent there. Following the settlement of that strike he was sent by Secretary Wilson to Utah as conciliator and was brought from Utah to Globe to act as conciliator there.

"I have no desire to be a candidate for mayor at this time; thank you for the compliment."

Among those whose names have been mentioned as possible candidates are included Dr. W. McLaughlin, George Hatch, A. L. Lovell, Dr. G. B. Butteau, member of the park board; Ben H. Pendleton, former civil service commissioner, and William J. Bacus, former city commissioner.

While no definite steps have been taken by the Recall League to groom a candidate for the field, the matter is being discussed widely among business men and the different influential organizations of the city.

In connection with his proposed trip to Mexico, George Kaufman said that he feels General Orbnegro, who was recently in Oakland, is a little too optimistic over the situation down there, but that he is going to investigate and look over some of his properties with a view of doing some developmental work, if it is possible.

"I will return to take the stump for the mayor," he said.

MAYOR SAYS RECALL IS COMPLIMENT TO HIM

Regarding the recall situation, Mayor Davie issued the following statement:

"I am glad to go before the people for vindication of my policy of reducing taxation and placing assessments on our eastern harbor front. I regret, however, that it must be this expensive recall that will stir up Oakland in agitation at a time when the whole country should be united and discouraging petty jealousies."

"The 7000 recall signers are responsible for the recall and it will be my purpose to immediately open up a campaign to tell the people the facts to offset the false impressions widely circulated by the recallers."

"The number of signers is a compliment to me. There were over 18,000 votes against me when I was elected by a large majority two years ago.

"The recallers waited about one-third of my opposition to bring on a recall at any time. A little organization and a big lot of money can stir up the city and cost any time and certainly the recallers were not embarrassed for lack of funds."

"After securing the city from door to door telling falsehoods and grossly misrepresenting me, I consider the number of signers a compliment to me."

"I am sorry that the recallers waited so long, but personally there is no question about the result. To be sure they have brought on the agitation, there will be a lot of time and money wasted with the result that attends most recalls, the man will be returned with a larger vote than ever."

JAPAN ASKS U. S. TO HALT NAVY PLANS

TOKYO, Oct. 9.—Reduction of the naval program of the United States, independence of the Philippines and the raising of Japanese fortifications on Formosa, the Marshall Islands and other of her Pacific possessions are the proceedings suggested by Katoro Muchitsuki, member of the Japanese parliament and one of the visiting commission of legislators, as a means of establishing permanently peaceful relations between Nippon and America.

"Frankly, the Japanese nation has been surprised to hear of the projected construction of a large navy, as laid down in the naval bill of last March," he declared in an interview. "Your government plans to build seventy battleships of the latest design, naught class in the next four years, while the naval program of Japan calls for but forty. This the Japanese people cannot understand, and there are many in our country who think that it means no good to us."

"The United States, which declared war against German militarism on land, might not be suspected of pre-

JAPAN CANNOT BELIEVE ISHII RIGHTLY QUOTED

TOKYO, Oct. 9.—The Japanese public and press hesitate to believe that Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese diplomatic mission to the United States, proclaimed in a recent address in America, a "Monroe Doctrine for Asia."

The consensus of opinion is that Ishii merely indicated that Japan would guarantee the integrity of China and the open door there.

Considerable satisfaction is expressed by officials and other public men, however, over the favorable trend of American opinion as to Japan's position in the Far East, as indicated in the comments in America on Viscount Ishii's recent speech.

It is assumed here that Ishii, and Secretary of State Lansing, during their conference at Washington, reached an understanding as to Japan's special position in the Orient.

Parading to establish that militarism on the Pacific Ocean. Let us discuss these matters with an avoidance of so-called diplomacy with its peculiar twists and Machiavellian formulas. A little plain speaking might have averted the catastrophe of August, 1914, in Europe.

DENY DANGER.

"There are misunderstandings between you and us. You have been told by many of your newspapers and by such books as 'The Japanese Invasion' and 'The Menace of Japan' that there exists a danger that Japan will take your colonies. This we utterly deny. But if you entreat such fear the remedy is simple.

"We hope that the United States eventually will give the Philippine Islands back to the natives by making them independent states, but at the same time form with the Japanese government a protectorate which will assure the sovereignty of the islands from invasion by other governments. If you then still doubt motives, England and France, two powers friendly to the United States and both having great possessions in the Pacific, may be called upon to guarantee the independence.

WAR AIMS DISCLOSED TO LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A movement to lead and express public opinion on the war was inaugurated here by formation of the League of National Unity, representing church, political, labor, agricultural and industrial organizations, to which President Wilson gave his endorsement in an address emphasizing the need for team play by the forces of American thought and opinion.

Welcoming the leaders of the movement at the White House in a brief speech, the President expressed the belief that American public opinion, although understanding the war's causes and principles, needs guidance to remember that the war should end only when Germany is beaten, and Germany's rule of autocracy and might are superseded by the ideals of democracy.

This is the issue which the American people should always keep in mind, the President said, in order to avoid being misled into by-ways of thought and the resultant scattering of force of public opinion.

Talk of early peace before Germany is defeated is one of the evidences of misguided thought, he suggested, and should not cloud the vision of those who understand that the United States is fighting now for the same ideals of democracy and freedom that have always actuated the nation. The President gave warning that it should not be forgotten that German success would mean not only prevention of the spread of democracy, but possibly the suppression of that already existing.

CHAIRMAN NAMED.

The league, which will have headquarters in New York, chose as honorary chairmen Cardinal Gibbons and Dr. Frank Mason North, president of the Federal Council of Churches.

Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, is active chairman, with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Charles Barrett, president of the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union, and George Pope, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, as vice-chairmen.

The aims of the league are set forth as follows:

To create a medium through which the loyal Americans of all classes, sections, creeds and parties can give expression to the fundamental purpose of the United States to carry on to a successful conclusion this new war for the independence of America and the preservation of democratic institutions and the vindication of the basic principles of humanity.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Field Marshal Haig struck again early today in the Ypres sector.

The aims of the league are set forth as follows:

To create a medium through which the loyal Americans of all classes, sections, creeds and parties can give expression to the fundamental purpose of the United States to carry on to a successful conclusion this new war for the independence of America and the preservation of democratic institutions and the vindication of the basic principles of humanity.

THE VAST INVASION of mud over Flanders caused by the last two days of nonstop rain did not stop the British commander's plan for a continuation of his drive.

Northeast and east of Ypres is in the same general sector in which the British made their overwhelmingly successful "big push" of last week. Then the weather was ideally cool and clear. Today it was sleety and rainy with strong winds.

At 5:20 this morning we again attacked on the west front, northeast and east of Ypres in conjunction with our allies on the left," Haig reported. "We made satisfactory progress. The weather is stormy."

Northeast and east of Ypres is in the same general sector in which the British made their overwhelmingly successful "big push" of last week. Then the weather was ideally cool and clear. Today it was sleety and rainy with strong winds.

After a great offensive than any similar drive which the British have undertaken in more than a year, Haig heretofore has been content to strike a staggering blow, reach certain specified objects and then hold these until every plan was perfected for a further advance—possibly for weeks.

Haig delivered such a blow yesterday. He advanced over a front of eight miles today. Five days later, he had already thrown his line forward.

From now on comes

after a great offensive than any similar drive which the British have undertaken in more than a year. Haig heretofore has been content to strike a staggering blow, reach certain specified objects and then hold these until every plan was perfected for a further advance—possibly for weeks.

President Wilson, they pointed out, had such an offer in his mind yesterday afternoon when addressing the newly-organized League for National Unity. He said that the war must continue until the enemy is beaten.

This statement, taken in connection with his reply to the Pope that no peace offer could be considered from the German government until that government was made responsible to the German people, was declared by officials today to mean that the President will not change his announced attitude even though the peace bloc in the German Reichstag should compel the government to offer to end the war on the basis of "no indemnities and no annexations."

This does not mean, however, that the administration favors either annexations or indemnities. On the other hand, it is considered certain that the President himself would favor a peace based entirely on the basis of restoration if the present German autocracy could be robbed of its power and the government reformed so that the people would control.

Officials refused to be quoted today on the new Berlin suggestion. Privately the following was set out as the position of the administration which can be expected if any new peace offer comes from Berlin via the Vatican or any other way:

The United States entered the war to safeguard the democracy of the world.

"It earnestly desires peace, but only a peace that will be lasting and true to allow autonomy to reform and renew the conflict."

"Peace offers that carry with them simply restoration of the status quo ante will be rejected for the reasons clearly set forth by the President in his Flag Day speech and the reply to the Pope."

"Further peace propaganda in this country at present is extremely dangerous. Therefore, officials will not discuss it but will continue every possible effort to increase the efficiency of the army and the navy."

ECONOMIZE MEN, GERMAN ARMY ORDER

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD. Oct. 8.—German's military chiefs, for the first time in the war, are beginning to talk about economizing the nation's human material.

German Army orders signed by Quartermaster General Ludendorff have recently been taken, from prisoners, emphasizing the need for economy of shells, conciliating now that economy of lives is more important and must hereafter be given first place.

Heretofore "economy orders" captured on prisoners dealt only with the importance of not wasting shells, munitions, and other material supplies.

Even in the present order Ludendorff, while still placing the utmost importance upon economy of shells, concedes now that economy of lives is more important and must hereafter be given first place.

The Ludendorff order lends added significance to the United Press despatches from this front on September 22, in which it was stated that out of 14,000,000 men who figured in the army rolls, the Prussian army machine now had only had about 6,500,000 left in the fighting ranks. Germany is beginning to realize the grave significance of this tremendous loss of man power.

ROOSEVELT BOMBARDED BY OAKLAND

Pershing Promotion Is Cheered Soldiers Make the Hills Echo Ball Scores Reach Battlefield

By J. W. Egger,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

AMERICAN FIELD-HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 7 (Delayed).—A long line of sweating, dusty men, across undulating hills, a colonel on another hill—a roared announcement from the colonel—and a tremendous booming roar of cheers resounding like the victory shouts at Harvard stadium when the Crimson has put one over on the Blue.

This was how Pershing's Sammies today received the news that their commander had been promoted to the rank of full general.

It came immediately after the American soldiers had gone through their very best paces under "Black Jack" Pershing's own keen gaze and he had expressed his terse emphatic commendation.

To-day was "competition day" for the Sammies. Regiment was pitted against regiment, battalion against battalion, company against company, and man against man in the exercise of war—and all for a dazzling row of silver cups, donated by General Pershing. Major General Sibert, other American generals and two French army commanders.

The competition was held under football conditions. The judge's shrill whistle carried on the stiff autumn wind like the signal of a football referee back home as the mole-skinned warriors of the gridiron crowded for the kick-off.

NOTABLES ARE JUDGES. The American expedition's best companies dug impetuously through the rocky soil, or raced madly through trenches, set up machine guns, fired others, or savagely charged grotesquely swaying German dummies, jabbing their bayonets deep into their straw vitals. The whole field buzzed with racing, feverishly inspired men going through the whole program of war.

An imposing group watched the men—Pershing, Sibert and other officers, answering in the same method.

FRAUD CHARGE IN DEATH CASE

STATE PURCHASES MAY BE AFFECTED

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9.—An operative of a national detective agency arrested a man whom they said admitted he was Frederick Roe Searing of Philadelphia, supposed to have been drowned at Atlantic City during August, 1915. Searing was charged with conspiracy to defraud and will be taken to Philadelphia tomorrow. It was reported.

According to the local manager of the detective agency, Searing, prominent contractor and builder of Philadelphia, donned a bathing suit, entered the water at Atlantic City one afternoon and failed to return. The body was never found and insurance companies refused to pay the amount of the policies. Mrs. Searing, according to the agency manager, entered suit for $18,000 against the insurance companies, a rehearing of which had been set in the federal district court at Philadelphia.

TO FACE CHARGE

Upon advices from the Santa Clara county authorities, Inspectors Gallagher and Wood, today arrested John Oberli of Santa Clara on a charge involving the alleged abduction of Constance Sanchez, a 17-year-old girl whom he is said to have brought to Oakland and married. Oberli was turned over to Constable George W. Lyle of Santa Clara to be taken back for hearing. The couple were arrested in a rooming house at First and Broadway.

GIVEN 30 DAYS

BEDFORD CITY, Oct. 8.—Will Trine of San Francisco, who drove his car into a truck, injuring three of his passengers, was sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace George Seely. He was charged with being intoxicated. Mrs. John Painter and Mrs. Fred Sparks, 501 Valencia street, San Francisco, were cut and bruised, and the third passenger, J. W. Curry, received a scalp wound. Curry was later arrested at the Red Cross Hospital, where the women were being treated, for disturbing the peace.

WRITES OF ARMY CAMP

By Albert E. Carter, former president of the Oakland Rotary Club, who has been specially detailed by the War Department for duty at Camp Lewis to look after the welfare of the Oakland boys. Extract from his letter to the Oakland TRIBUNE:

"The folks at home are all wanting to do something to aid and comfort the boys that are in camp. Permit me to make a few suggestions. First: Write letters—write letters—write letters! I cannot emphasize that enough. Write frequently and whether you have a letter to write or not. Your boy may be busy, which he usually is and may not have time to write, or be shy writing materials or the usual conveniences of correspondence. But when evening comes and he gets the few precious hours to himself, he begins to think of home and mother and all the rest that stick pretty close. Your boy no doubt writes in the world he is. Then it is he wants to hear all the home news, what his friends are doing or have done and the trend of neighborhood gossip."

WISH PAPERS.

"Next to writing, a local newspaper would be greatly appreciated because it gives local news. Even the baseball news a week old comes in for its share of interest. Sporting news that is dear to every man's heart comes with the newspapers, so don't forget that when looking around for something to send."

JUDGE CABANISS TO TRY WEINBERG

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The failure of Superior Judge Frank Duane to appear in his court this morning to hear the case of Israel Weinberg, one of the Preparedness Day parade bomb defendants, caused the substitution of Judge George H. Cabaniss, who, over the objection of Weinberg's counsel, continued the case until 2 p.m. this afternoon when the imprisonment of the jury was broken.

The case of Alexander Berkman, who has been coupled with these defendants, was also called for trial and at the request of Assistant District Attorney Berry was continued for two weeks. Berkman is on a $25,000 bail in New York City, pending a government investigation of his activity in connection with anti-draft propaganda, at the completion of which Whitman will be asked to honor a requisition from Governor Stephens for his return to California.

Wilcox wrote that he had been advised that the California purchasing agent had requested bids on supplies of flour and cereals for a year, and warned him that purchases beyond a period of thirty days would be in violation of the mills' agreement with the food administration.

Contracts anticipating deliveries beyond the thirty period would be subject to cancellation.

Purchasing Agent McMillan said he did not believe the rule was intended to apply to state purchases and has appealed to Ralph Merritt, food administrator for California, to confer with Herbert Hoover, food administrator on the subject.

WASHINGTON—Increase in the production of sulphuric acid to the extent of two million tons a year was set forth as a war service of the American Institute of Mining Engineers at today's session of the annual convention.

LOS ANGELES—Confessing that he and another man murdered James Bateman of Los Angeles and buried his body in the sand near Oceanside, a man giving his name as Otto B. Slade, a United States soldier, was lodged in the county jail here today.

NEW YORK—The executive committee of the Tobacco Products Corporation today recommended an initial dividend of $1.50 a share on its common stock, payable November 15.

U. P. E. C. MEETING

Many influential members of the Portuguese colonies in the east bay cities, especially in Oakland and San Leandro, are attending the annual State convention of the U. P. E. C. in Modesto. Delegates to the convention are holding business sessions today, following a ceremony last night when the keys of Modesto were formally presented to the convention by Mayor D. W. Norris at a public meeting in the Auditorium. Judge W. H. Langdon and District Attorney J. M. Cross complimented the Portuguese citizens of California and added to the welcome by the Mayor. Judge Frank Mitchell Jr., of Hayward; E. Cunha and other grand officers responded on behalf of the visitors. A parade for which members and drill teams of different Portuguese orders and an automobile excursion, with a stop at noon for lunch at Turlock, are among tomorrow's events. A meeting place for next year's convention will probably be decided on Thursday.

Representing San Leandro Council No. 5 of the U. P. E. C. at the convention are the drill team and Mrs. Mae Madaria, Mrs. Isabel Gloria Luis, Mrs. Maria C. Enos and Mrs. Mae Olympia.

TO PROBE FIRES

MODESTO, Oct. 9.—Thirty I. W. W. and other suspects arrested here following a night of turmoil, caused by a series of incendiary fires in the residence districts of Modesto, are in the county jail. They will be held at least another day while federal detectives aid in investigating the activity of the agitators in this vicinity.

Daniel Avery and C. M. Ayres, I. W. W. leaders, made threats after their arrest of what would happen if they were not released. Nearly all the suspects are carrying copies of "Solidarity," whose plant in Chicago was recently raided by federal authorities.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

For instance—one spoonful of Calumet will positively do the work of two spoonfuls of most other kinds. You use only a level teaspoonful to a cup of flour. With other brands you must use twice as much. You use the smallest amount of Calumet because you get the greatest gas strength. Besides Calumet never fails—stops all baking losses—reduces bills for baking ingredients. The great savings of Calumet are shown in these results.

CAR ACCIDENT IS UNDER PROBE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Responsibility for the street car accident that resulted in the death of one person and the probable death of another, and the injury of four others, is being made the subject of an investigation today by officials of the United Railroads. The accident occurred in a dense fog at Lincoln way and Forty-sixth street, a fast moving car crashing into a car that was standing to let passengers off.

Ben Ives, motorman of the oncoming car, was so badly crushed that both arms and both legs were amputated at the hospital. He did not survive the operation.

Of the other victims the most seriously injured is Mrs. Carrie C. Kohler, who is suffering from a fractured skull and possible internal injuries. It is feared that she will not recover. She is the wife of Grover C. Kohler, 1228 Forty-sixth street, who suffered cuts and bruises. Dorothy Kohler, and Walter T. Kohler, brother and sister of Grover C. Kohler, received cuts and bruises. James T. O'Connell, motorman, and C. G. Shepard, conductor, both received serious injuries. The first car had stopped at Sixty-fourth street to allow passengers to alight. The force of the impact drove the cars forward for two blocks, scattering debris along the entire distance. The speeding car buried itself half way in the forward car. All the injured passengers were in the forward car. The rear car was without passengers, and it is said that fear of possible shots or stones from the dark wayside was the reason for the speed.

Grover Kohler and his sister had alighted from the standing car and he was in the act of helping his wife and sister down when the oncoming car lurched out of the fog and struck, telescoping half its length, pinning the victims in the wreckage and preventing escape. The injured motorman and conductor were in the forward part of the standing car.

At Forty-eighth street the forward car jumped the track and turned over. The injured were rushed to the Park Emergency Hospital.

All the members of the crews involved are substitute carmen. One of them carried a pistol in his pocket.

WANTS HIS GRAVE BACK ONCE MORE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Giuseppe M. Farina, a fruit peddler, has one foot in the grave. He is a victim of apoplexy attacks. Believing in preparedness and the efficiency that has made General Cadorna supreme on the Carso plateau, he wishes his burial plot at the Italian cemetery for his own use when the time comes for him to die.

But one thing stands—or reclines—in Farina's way. It is the body of Giuseppe Bianchini, during life Farina's bosom friend. Farina may have one foot in the grave, all right, but that's all the further he's gotten. Mrs. Adelaide Bianchini, widow of Farina's bosom friend, refused to allow Farina his own property, according to a legal complaint filed.

Judge Graham's court yesterday, Farina, took the stand and immediately was taken with an apoplectic attack. He had just testified as to Mrs. Bianchini's refusal to remove her husband's body from the Farina grave when he became the victim of another attack, which brought the trial to an abrupt close while Farina was removed to the Central Emergency hospital. There, it is said that he will recover this time and will have no immediate use for the delayed grave.

When Bianchini died, according to testimony yesterday, Farina, real friend-like, told the widow she might use his grave temporarily for the dead man. That was three years ago. Fearing that his own death was not far off, Farina, one year ago, asked the widow, he says, to remove her late lamented body from the plot so that he might utilize it for himself. At this time, too, Mrs. Bianchini refused, according to testimony.

Six months ago she obtained an order from Judge Graham, which legally requested Mrs. Bianchini to remove her husband's body. Her refusal brought the case into court. It will be continued several days until Farina comes back from the hospital. Farina lives at 478 Greenwich street.

CLAIM OFFICER PREDICTS FIRES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Police department officials, brother patrollers and newspaper writers are beginning to believe that Sergeant R. L. Ingham of the harbor police has ability to see into the future. Not only has the sergeant predicted every large San Francisco fire since the catastrophe in 1906, but he is able to tell the number of deaths that will follow each conflagration.

Sergeant Ingham, according to Sergeant Silva and Police Officer O'Dowd, predicted the Owl lodging house fire on Third street which occurred Friday afternoon, telling his fellow-officers that the number of casualties would be three. This prediction came several days before the fire which claimed the lives of three San Francisco firemen.

Ingham says that, several days before the fire of 1906, he felt in his sub-normal self the presence of a titanic conflagration, which might destroy San Francisco. Immediately, he increased his fire insurance and, at the time, told assurance officials that a huge blaze would occur soon. It did occur, just as the police official predicted.

Another prediction, according to policemen, was a lodging house fire on East and Washington streets several months ago, when several lodgers lost their lives. Not only did he predict the big fire in the harbor police district, but he reckoned the number of resultant fatalities.

Sergeant Ingham has been in the fire department for 23 years, patrolling the waterfront all of that time. He is a familiar figure to thousands of commuters and travelers at the ferry building.

HEROES HONORED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—San Francisco today paid military honors to three heroes who lost their lives at the Owl lodging house fire last Friday evening. The bodies of Assistant Chief Stephen S. Russell and Firemen Joseph Allen and Timothy Collins were escorted from the city hall, where they had been lying in state, to the grave by a company of soldiers, platoons of police and firemen, and prominent officials headed by Mayor Rolph.

THINKS S. F. IS DANGEROUS FOR 16-YEAR-OLD SON

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Somewhere in Los Angeles is a man who thinks San Francisco is a dangerous place. He is Horace C. Lawrence. Today Chief of Police White received a telegram from Lawrence, as follows:

"My daughter, Mrs. Alice Safatovich, wishes her 16-year-old brother to pay her a two weeks' visit, as she says she is lonesome. Do you think it is advisable to let him go?"

Mrs. Safatovich's name does not appear in the San Francisco directory.

NEW CAR MEN ARE JAILED BY POLICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Thirteen United Railroad carmen are under arrest today, seven facing felony charges and six charges with misdemeanor for carrying concealed weapons. The men, who have been confined in carbarn barracks ever since they were brought here from the east eight weeks ago, broke out from their quarters last night. They were arrested for reckless driving and when searched were found to be carrying an assortment of weapons ranging from pistols to pick handles.

The San Francisco labor council last night postponed action regarding the proposed strike calling a general strike of organized labor here in sympathy with the car strike. A committee was appointed to confer with the Building Trades Council Thursday in an endeavor to secure the building trades' endorsement of the car strike.

IT IS OVER.
Formation of a new union known as Local No. 765, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, is another late development of the street car strike which by next Thursday will have lasted for two months. This organization of the striking platform men is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and has applied for membership in the San Francisco Labor Council.

President Jesse W. Lilenthal of the United Railroads announces that "the so-called strike can be considered as over. Operation of the cars has never been more normal today than at any time since August 11. There is no difficulty in employing all the men necessary for the operation of full schedules."

CONFERENCE.

A second conference on the question of the valuation of the United Railroad properties is being held this morning between City Engineer M. M. O'Shaughnessy and William von Phu, vice president of the street car company. The city engineer expects to have his report ready to submit to the supervisors within two or three weeks.

You Get Better Cough Syrup by Making It at Home

What's more, you save about 25¢ by easily made and costs little.

You'll never really know what a fine cough syrup you can make until you prepare this famous home-made remedy. Not only is it $2 as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a more effective and dependable remedy in every way. It cures the usual cough, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth) from any good drug store, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Here you have a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough syrup that money can buy—at a cost of only 65 cents or less. It never spoils.

The prompt and positive results given by the pleasant tasting cough syrup have caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, heals the inflamed membrane of the throat and bronchial tubes and relieves the throat and bronchial tubes.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

By Edna B. Kinard

The return of an Oakland belle from a visit to Fresno has been marked by the informal announcement to her friends of her betrothal. Miss Britta Selander, who is the latest of the engaged girls, has just made known to her friends her engagement to De Ponto Tompkins son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snowdon Tompkins of Pasadena. Miss Selander is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Selander and attended the Sacred Heart Convent in San Francisco before giving up her studies to go south. It was in Fresno, where Tompkins is interested in ranching just outside the city, that the meeting of the young couple took place. Her name attended the Belmont Military Academy.

Allie Selander is at present being entertained a great deal by her friends. Saturday, October 20, Miss Helen Olds will entertain at a bridge tea for the bride-elect at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. C. Olds.

Charity has been the basis for every social gathering of the year, for to help the needy, either well or sick, is a splendid work and it is said that east bay matrons have always held first place in doing their share toward bettering conditions or tending to the welfare of those in less fortunate circumstances. One of the pleased institutions of Oakland which is planning the annual benefit is the Fabiola Hospital Association. Headed by a group of splendid women, this association cares for hundreds, men, women or children, who need medical attention, which they would otherwise do without were it not for the system carried out by this organization by which so many have benefited.

Once a month to help along in their expenses those at the head of this organization hold their "rummage sale," which is looked forward to by hundreds and which always secures a tidy sum to help along with the year's expenses.

Cards were mailed yesterday announcing the date of this event, Saturday, October 27, in the market place at Twelfth and Harrison streets all day long it will be open to the public. The collection of garments, useful articles, children's clothes and other necessities which the members of the association have gathered together all the year, are always in the best of condition and anything which is contributed to the sale must be in perfect sanitary order and salable. The association will have such articles called for if communication is made with the president, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, who succeeded her mother, the late Mrs. Remi Chabot, in that office.

Some of those who are to preside at the coming sale will be Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, president, who has charge of the general arrangements, Mrs. Daniel E. Easterbrook, chairman of the day; Mrs. Q. Chase, Mrs. Wallace Evans, Miss Marjorie Evans, Miss Elsie Posey and Miss Huntingdon, Mrs. Thomas George W. Dornin, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain, Mrs. H. J. Knowles, Mrs. J. A. Shuey and Mrs. William S. Snook.

The annual "rummage sales" under the auspices of the association have been the only source of help which they have sought from the general public and these in turn are a help to hundreds.

An informal luncheon yesterday afternoon to which a group of friends were invited by telephone was given at the Hotel Oakland by Mrs. Thomas Malvern Dargle, who had as her guest of honor Miss Elsie Posey, a bride-elect, and fiancee of Robert McMurtry Hunt. Places were set for Miss Elsie Posey, Miss Louis Huntley, Miss Maud Mitchell, Miss Esther Sharon, Miss Marjorie Merritt and the hostess, Mrs. Thomas Malvern Dargle.

Saturday afternoon Miss Ruby McClelland will entertain a group of friends in honor of Miss Esther Sharon.

Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, press chairman of the National Woman's Party, is proud of this picture which shows her in the prison garb of the District of Columbia workhouse at Occoquan, Va., where she and a number of other militant suffragettes "did time" for picketing the White House. In spite of Mrs. Baker's protests her husband paid her fine and had her released.

has planned for Wednesday afternoon, the motif for which will be that of the bride-elect of the fall. Miss Louise Huntley and Miss Elsie Posey. This affair is really in the nature of a farewell for Mrs. Dargle, who leaves the following day for Tacoma to join her husband, who is stationed at American lake. Mrs. Dargle will occupy a pretty apartment in Tacoma.

Senator and Mrs. Frank M. Carr entertained with a prettily appointed tea at their home 441½ Evans avenue. Thursday evening last, Carr, representing Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferguson of Sacramento. The Fergusons have but recently taken up their residence in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Davis of Berkeley formally announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Davis, to Sheldon Lowery of San Jose. Miss Davis is a student at the University of California. No date has been set for the wedding.

In compliment of Mrs. Stuart Rawlings, who leaves for Peru the latter part of this month, Mrs. Bruce Cornwell will entertain at luncheon and bridge the afternoon of October 11. A congenial group of friends have been asked for the occasion.

Very shortly Mrs. George W. Baker is to leave for American Lake Camp to visit her son and daughter-in-law, Lieutenant and Mrs. George W. Baker, Jr. Mrs. George T. Marcy entertained recently for Mrs. Baker and her daughter, Mrs. John D. Griswold.

The winter will be passed in Washington by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Titus, their home in Piedmont during their absence to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Hinckley Taylor.

The holiday season is to be spent in New York this year by Miss Ethel Valentine, who left for the east last Saturday, accompanied by a group of east bay friends.

Saturday evening Miss Jeannette Maxfield entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Maxfield, Vernon Heights, in honor of Miss Britta Selander, fiancee of De Ronde Tompkins of Pasadena, and Mrs. M. J. Waldron of Worcester, N. Y., who is a guest at the Burdick home. Bridge was the diversion of the evening, about six tables being made up. Among the guests were Mrs. Harry Bissell, Mrs. Hugh O'Neill, Mrs. Hermann Englehart, Mrs. Frank Makinson, Mrs. M. J. Welden, Miss Alice Burdick, Miss Britta Selander, Miss Bernadine Gastman, Miss Vivian Middleton, Miss Elsie Nunnel, Miss Elmer James, Miss Roxana Weil, Miss Miriam Weil, Miss Helen Olds, Miss Maxalta Brown, Miss Eliza Brown, Miss Claire Reynolds, Miss Phyllis Kent, Miss Louise Martin, Miss Madeline Johnson, Miss Madeline Mouser, Miss Truxee Mouser, Mrs. Robert Atkinson and Mrs. L. N. Bush.

Pretty prizes, Japanese dwarf trees, were awarded at each table while the guest prizes were handsome Chinese vases.

In honor of Miss Bernadine Gastman of San Diego and her niece, Miss Madeline Johnson, who recently returned from a finishing school at Montreal, Canada, Mrs. Charles C. Eschlin entertained Friday evening at a party at her home in Vernon street. Mrs. Eschlin was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. H. U. Maxfield.

Among the guests that evening were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bissell, Miss Geraldine Morris, Miss Charlotte Loring, Miss Vivian Middleton, Miss Alice Burdick, Miss Jeannette Max-

MME. FONTENAY WILL SING HERE

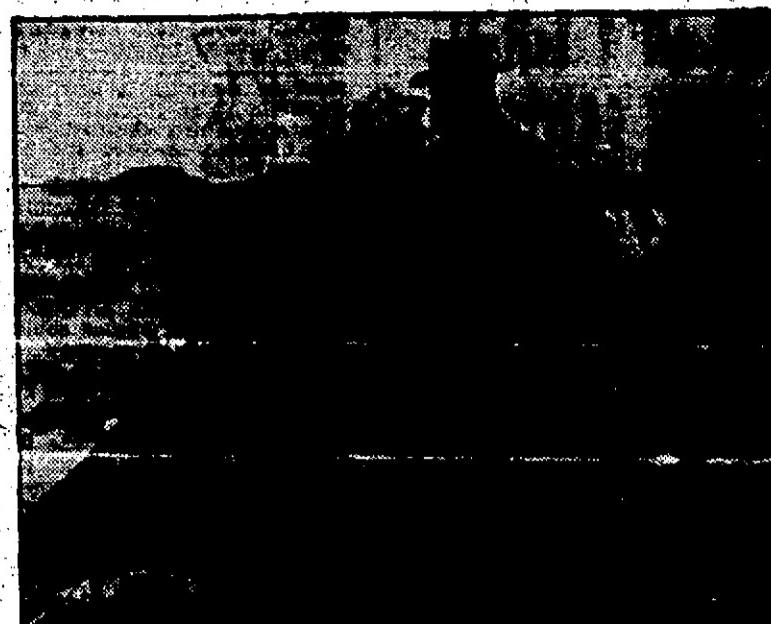

Music lovers of the city will be given an opportunity to hear Madame Odette LeFontenay, French lyric soprano, last evening at the Auditorium Theater. One of the Metropolitan Opera Co. of New York, who will be the principal artist at a musical to be given by the Edison studio of H. G. Campbell Co. Many prominent musicians already have secured invitations to the affair, which will be held at the Auditorium Theater Thursday evening, October 11. Admission will be by invitation only. Cards of invitation may be obtained by telephoning Mr. Grove of Campbell's Edison studio.

Madame LeFontenay, although a young woman, has had a brilliant career in opera and concerts in Europe. Her voice is a pure lyric soprano of great brilliancy and has a wonderful clarity and charm. The beauty of her voice alone would be sufficient to make her renowned among vocal artists, and the fact that she combines it with musical intelligence of the highest order entitles her to a foremost place among artists. In addition to her other qualifications, she has a most charming personality—a personality that has been a factor in gaining her the favor that she enjoys. Her appearance here is, in itself, a notable event and the fact that she comes as an emissary of a new art, music recreation, lends the recital in which she appears still more distinction.

A well-qualified audience will great the charming singer when she appears in Oakland, according to the interest that is being manifested in the coming affair.

Wonderful Desert Play, With Weird Effects and Strange Story Is Attraction

Like a breath from Beni Mora on the edge of the Sahara with its warmth, its depth and passionate romantic atmosphere, is shown at the Kinema, "The Garden of Allah," that well-known novel by Robert Hichens, which created such a furor a few years back, and which for the last couple of years has proved a sensational success on the stage.

It tells the story of an English woman and a man who knew not women, both coming to this unusual little place and thrown together finally married. Then started a thrilling honeymoon out in the desert in a sand storm. This setting is wonderful, leading up as it does to that startling climax, where the man must fight his God and his conscience and where the woman finds herself and her ultimate happiness in the greater love that comes to her.

Striking in theme and plot, this play requires settings, locations and people who are bizarre. Hichens furnished the first and the pictures, as only pictures can, furnish the rest, with as perfect result as has been shown in any of the masterful productions of this season.

ALMA GLUCK IS HEARD IN RECORDS

Alma Gluck, who is coming to Oakland in a song recital on November 6, is one of the leaders in the October list of Victor records in an artistic rendition of "Chanson Hebraique." Accompanied by her talented violinist-husband, Efrem Zimbalist, she shows complete command over subtle and delicate vocal shadings and the sonority of her lower tones.

Among the other operatic stars who offer new delights in the records to thousands of phonograph owners are Louise Homer, with a thrilling rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner"; Frances Alda in an extremely beautiful rendition of the old negro spiritual, "Deep River"; Mabel Garrison in that popular plantation song, "Little Alabama Coon"; Amelita Galli-Curci in "The Last Rose of Summer"; Geraldine Farrar in an ardent Chaminade love song, "If Thou Dost Say"; John McCormack in "Any Place is Heaven If You Are Near Me"; a new song by the composer of "Little Gray Home in the West"; Giacomo de Luca in "The Home in Fair Provence," from "Traviata"; Enrico de Gogorza in "That's Why My Heart is Calling You"; and Clarence Whitehill in "Tis But a Little Faded Flower."

Lambert Murphy presents two charming songs of sentiment: "Good Night, Little Girl" and "The Blush Rose." Two patriotic songs are given with spirit by Nora Bayes—"Laddie Boy," a farewell song in a pathetic vein, and George M. Cohan's "Over There," with its lilting march tune.

FIRST OF OPERA.

The chorus of the Metropolitan Opera Company is heard in two numbers from Borodin's opera, "Prince Igor"—a soft and gentle chorus of Tartar women and a chorus of slaves in striking contrast. These are the first records from this Russian opera to be issued in America.

The Victor concert orchestra is very much in evidence this month, contributing eight splendid selections. "Whispering Flowers" is a charming waltz number with delightful chime effects, and "The Dying Poet" is an interesting orchestral version of this famous piano piece. The "Reconciliation Polka," by Driko, and a "Spanish Dance in G Minor," of Miskowski, are also splendidly played. The other selections are two numbers from Ligeti's well known Ballet, "Egyptian," and the Finale, in two parts, of Beethoven's "Fifth Symphony," which is popular with people in all the various stages of musical development.

PADEREWSKI TO PLAY.

The Paderewski record of Chopin's "Etude in G-Flat Minor" is another instance of the improved method of recording piano music recently evolved by the Victor. The number is familiarly and aptly known as the "Butterfly," on the record reveals the great Paderewski in his great poetic mood. In "Little Firefly" Charles Wakefield Cadman has given us another of those delightful little sketches based on Indian themes, and Maud Powell has given a beautiful violin rendition of this captivating number.

These are some of the good things contained in the Victor musical feast for October. The others may be heard at any music store where Victor records are sold.

"EXILE" IS FILM

Vibrant with the life and movement of the very spirit of Asia, fascinating to a point that constantly holds attention and featuring a star that for emotional characterization is well matched to the able, skillful actors of Paramount studio pictures, created a furor of excitement and created considerable outspoken appreciation and applause from the thousands of ardent photoplay fans who have witnessed its presentation at the New T. & T. Theaters.

On the same program the New T. & T. are offering a clever comedy that teams with merriment and humor, also the latest Hearst-Pathe News, with a musical score that is admirably selected.

U. S. OIL NEEDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The British government is so much concerned over difficulties in obtaining fuel oil for its navy it has asked its representatives here to take the subject up with the American government with a view of obtaining assistance in transporting supplies.

The subject will be discussed at a conference tomorrow between Sir Frederick Black, shipping board, and the Navy Department officials and American oil producers.

MURDER CHARGED

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 9.—Just before Coroner W. D. Elliott opened his inquest this morning into the death of Jessie Barker, millionaire banker and clubwoman, who was found dead in the bathroom of his mansion Sunday evening, W. G. McRoberts, a cousin of the dead man, announced that after a careful investigation relations were estranged. Parker had been murdered. It is even hinted that the shooting did not take place in the bathroom where Barker's body was found.

Wherever possible, however, government ground adjacent to the camp or cantonments will be opened to private motion picture houses and the like under control of the military authorities.

"Camp commanders," the order says, "will not hesitate to close undesirable amusement places."

HIGH COST FLAYED BY LECTURER

BERKELEY, Oct. 9.—"Social justice demands that we put a stop to a monetary situation which is to blame for so many great injustices and evils."

This was the conclusion reached by Dr. Irving Fisher, Yale University as he headed at Wheeler Hall auditorium yesterday afternoon from his fourth lecture in the Hitchcock series. He attacked the high cost of living as a social injustice, indicating that while it is a social problem, it is also a political one.

It is pointed out that while the two accidents occurred virtually the same spot, the application "ideal curve" is misleading, inasmuch as the real "death curve" was much further out, and that that curve has been eliminated. There is a curve at Seventy-third avenue but it is not a bad one and with a machine fitted with properly adjusted lights and a careful driver, there should be no occasion for any accident, even under circumstances similar to those accompanying the recent accidents close to that place.

There is no evidence of carelessness on the part of the drivers who ran down the victims of these accidents, and on both occasions the drivers asserted that they did not see the victims until after striking them. It is this phase of the situation that leads motorists to the belief that the attempt of the drivers to adjust their lamps in accordance with the new state law had brought about compliance with legal specifications at the expense of the full efficiency of the light casting facilities of the lamps.

It is cited in support of this contention that in the majority of cases where lamps were taken from their natural angle as to comply with that provision of the law that prohibits light being cast over a height of forty-one inches at a distance of twenty-five feet, the side sweep of the light rays is curtailed as also is the power to fully illuminate the roadway at a distance such as would, it is believed, have prevented the accidents of last Sunday and of the week before.

Fred W. Lange, the victim of the accident Sunday has recovered sufficiently to be removed from the emergency hospital to a private institution.

COMMUNITY BUILDING.

In his address before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday Superintendent of Schools Hunter touched upon a subject which The TRIBUNE has presented to the attention of the Alameda County communities. This is the new problem which has arisen as a result of the great industrial growth of Oakland and its neighbor cities, among the most pressing of which is the housing problem. Approximately 10,000 new workers have come to this side of the bay within the last eighteen months, and some 15,000 more are expected to take their places in new industrial establishments within the next few months.

Mr. Hunter called attention also to the fact that since 1910 the population of Oakland has increased 35 per cent and the enrollment of the public schools 52 per cent. Then he went on to point out other problems.

Industrial prosperity alone cannot permanently make the city or our ideals. Our industrial development must be a part of a carefully thought-out scheme of community building. We must not grow merely by chance. The future of many industrial cities has been ruined by lack of statesmanlike foresight and the want of a carefully worked out community-building program. Those who are responsible for the permanent welfare and future development of Oakland have it in their power to decide whether we shall make our splendid city a center of slums and fostering social disease or a city of homes in which prevail the lofty ideals of America's best citizenship. Shall our city planning be done by intention or by chance? Shall we develop in accordance with the dictates of selfish interests alone or in accordance with a general policy of community welfare?

The first great problem, as Mr. Hunter sees it, is that of Americanizing our foreign element. We must so plan our civic life that those who come among us as industrial workers shall be led into the ideals and habits of a life of American citizenship. The second problem is that of reaching all the children of all the people with practical instruction in citizenship.

The solution of neither of these problems can be left solely to the public education department; they are civic duties of all the people, to be discharged best by cordial and whole-hearted cooperation. In the working out of the first the public may only count upon such assistance as the schools are able to give, and which necessarily is dependent upon the other tasks and the facilities of the schools. As to the second the schools can do little without substantial help and primary provisions by the community. So both problems are essentially civic problems of community building, for the prompt and serious attention alike of the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the citizens who are not members.

But to the satisfactory solution of both problems adequate modern housing conditions are fundamental. As Mr. Hunter said, "Wholesome housing for industrial districts must be provided. Our city cannot permanently prosper unless our industrial classes are properly housed and unless a reasonably high standard of living prevails among these classes."

Unless the wage earner, new and old, possesses comfortable and adequate quarters for himself and family, the other efforts at training in citizenship become largely academic and theoretical, as he has little time and inclination to profit by them. On the other hand, if he is happy and contented, with a reasonable time left for recreation and instruction, he will seek opportunities for his improvement and thereby assume a large share of this public burden.

If the city plans its industrial districts and housing facilities now it will go very far toward removing many problems otherwise inevitable and in greatly alleviating many others. At the same time it will avoid the inevitable vicious social and sociological ills that follow in the train of neglect. Fortunately we do not have to do any tearing down. We are practically at the point of beginning a greater industrial center; intelligent action will be a preventive for the afflictions older and careless communities have made so familiar.

A problem in mental arithmetic appears in the annual report of the director of the experiment station of the State University College of Agriculture. If each of seventeen men of an average age of 30.7 years visits 13.4 farms each week or a calendar year, and each week holds 2.5 meetings with an average attendance of 47.2 each, and travels 286.6 miles during the year, what is the year's total attendance at all the farm advisor meetings? The answer is 99,097.

TRANSPORTATION TAXES.

A bulletin just issued by the Southern Pacific Company gives the first explanation of the operation of the provision in the new war revenue bill for taxing the sale of passenger and freight transportation. Of first interest is the explanation that the suburban commuter will escape the new taxation under the provision which exempts commutation trips for distances of forty miles or less and which provides a minimum limit of thirty-five cents as the value of a taxable ticket.

The new law becomes effective November 1 and imposes a tax of eight percent on passenger fares, with a few exceptions, and three percent on all freight shipments. The passenger tax is to be imposed upon tickets which are part of through trips to Canada or Mexico. To other foreign countries a stamp tax is placed on all tickets costing over ten dollars.

The Southern Pacific, on its Pacific system, carries about four million passengers a month. It is estimated that of this number the amount exempted because of commuter or low rate classification, will be three million. This leaves a million a month, or twelve million passengers annually subject to taxation on the Southern Pacific's system alone. Baggage charges are not taxable. Ticket agents will collect the war tax at the time of the sales of transportation. The tax on cash fares will be collected by conductors, who will also be responsible for collecting the tax on tickets sold prior to November 1 and not used until that day or later, provided agents have not already collected the tax and made a notation to that effect on the ticket. The rate of ten percent will apply on the purchase of seats in observation cars, berths or staterooms on its river steamers, says the Southern Pacific. Sleeping car tickets also come in for ten percent, the method of collection to be announced by the Pullman Company.

The three percent tax on freight charges offers no exemption either as to amount or distance, except on shipments for the United States government, or the States, and on export and import business, and strictly company business. A special clause excluded also amusement business, such as theatrical and circus trains, which come under different provisions of the bill.

While the government holds the carriers responsible for the collection of this tax, the bill provides that the person purchasing the service shall pay the tax.

This will throw a vast amount of special accounting work upon the railroads. The Southern Pacific, for instance, will have to maintain a special force of clerks to handle the vast detail involved and to make monthly returns to the government. When it is considered that the Southern Pacific, on the Pacific System alone, handles twelve million taxable passenger transactions, and from twelve to fifteen million freight transactions a year, the size of the special accounting can be appreciated.

With Peru and Uruguay lined up with the other Latin American nations who have broken with Germany, the policy of President Irigoyen of Argentina to abstain from joining the American confederation of defense become more conspicuous than ever. Maybe Bola Pasha has been down that way, too.

A college professor says the war was started by men in advanced stages of senile decay. Perhaps they were friends of some of our most prominent pacifists.

In announcing that every man will have a rifle when he leaves for France, Secretary of War Baker omitted to give any assurance as to a pair of socks or a hat.

One good bond deserves another.

A LINCOLN FOR LONDON.

Oliver Cromwell has been variously portrayed in English picture and story, as bigoted and vengeful and treacherous and cruel, as forbidding of aspect. But when the time came to set up in front of St. Stephen's a statue of Cromwell, the patriot, the liberator of English thought, was depicted by an enlightened sculptor in his true historical aspect. The Cromwell at the Parliament Buildings is the true Cromwell of clarified history. The Beaconsfield, near by, depicts the great political leader, the powerful upholder of a great empire, not the egotistical and attitudinizing "Dizzy" some of his contemporaries liked to caricature. The Lincoln which should stand in proximity to these imperishable effigies of famous Englishmen should faithfully and sympathetically depict the ideal of the Emancipator, the heroic, self-sacrificing American leader who bore so bravely the great burden of his nation's troubles.

The humble origin of the man, the uncouthness his enemies found in his personality, need not be suggested in a statue intended to personify for all time the triumph of his democratic principle. Mr. George Grey Barnard has been at pains to denote the ungainliness of his Lincoln, to present him in an ugly pose, to exaggerate, probably for some comprehensible artistic effect, certain physical defects. This is, therefore, not an appropriate statue of President Lincoln to put in that place to represent to generations to come of Englishmen the true spirit of America. We have a few public statues of Lincoln much better suited to the purpose.

As a matter of fact, Lincoln was a man of splendid stature. He faced his troubles erect, not bowed with his hands clasped in front of his body in an attitude of humility and despair. Mr. Barnard has evolved a Lincoln which just suits the fancy of Mr. Barnard and his friends. We should not care to deprive them of the aesthetic enjoyment they derive from contemplation of it. But let us set up in London a statue of Lincoln which faithfully represents the great public and historic side of the author of the Gettysburg address and the second inaugural speech, the powerful, unshrinking, heroic, and triumphant Lincoln.—New York Times.

NOTES AND COMMENT

A despatch states that a Portland man refused to give window space for a Liberty Loan poster. A considerable explanation of the refusal is afforded in the detail that the man's name is Untergraffberg.

The county assessors are enjoying the hospitality of Redding while they confer as to the best methods of operating so that the patients will feel it the least.

Modesto's eruption of L. W. W. has brought a problem back to this state that it was hoped had passed. The reports indicate that Modesto will proceed in its own way to solve it as far as that immediate section is concerned.

The United Railroads officials say the strike is all over, and the spokesmen for the strikers say it is still on. What the situation seems to need, that an interested public may be truly informed, is an impire.

T. R. always receives a royal welcome when he visits Oakland, but if he will come now and speak on the occasion of this city's patriotic Liberty demonstration he will get an ovation compared with which all former receptions were mere well-wishes.

The great drive to impress the nation with the vital importance of the second Liberty Loan will be participated in by ex-President Taft and ex-Secretary Bryan. It is a reassuring sign when men so far asunder in times of peace converge in times of national stress. It indicates an abiding patriotism.

If LaFollette had not said enough before to justify senatorial action, he said it in the three-hour speech in which he assumed to justify himself. That speech spread among the enemy, will afford them much argument to justify themselves.

Former Ambassador Gerard and Evangelist Sunday appeared together at Los Angeles, and it is interesting to read that the evangelist embraced the opportunity while the ambassador was speaking to shed his collar and other apparel so that they might not impede his hurricane efforts to snatch souls to safety.

Uruguay, the latest country to join the Allies, may not be able at present to accord more than moral assistance, but that is better than enemy sympathy, or even indifference. It is indicative of the continental line-up.

Although the fish price bulletin now bear the authority stamp of State Food Director Weinstock instead of A. Paladini, it is observable that the price of salmon has gone up to 25 cents a pound, and the price of no other fish has gone down any at all. So that results are not yet as they were expected to be.

Professor Mattioli explains a great deal when he says there are tough cuts in whale meat as well as tender. From the reports of those who have tried it, the tid-bits must be much in the minority. But we should remember that tenderloins and sweetbreads are not the chief parts of more familiar meat supplies.

Things are not as sombre in the Northwest as they were. The shipwrights at Seattle have returned to work, and the Carmen of Portland have voted not to strike.

The Syracuse University is extra patriotic. It has barred pinocchio because it is a German game. It will now be in order to ban sauerkraut for the same reason.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

During the past few months a number of Stockton women have each sent the sum of $32.50 to certain French families throughout France to help feed and clothe children made fatherless by the war. These Stockton women have been somewhat surprised to receive letters from French mothers thanking them for gifts of 164 francs.

WILLIE RITCHIE LOOKS DUE FOR A BEATING TOMORROW

PERCY AND FERDIE—Simple Little Maidens! But They're Wise Now

By H. A. MacGILL
Creator of the Half-Room Boys

Marty Farrell Shapes Up As the More Clever Boxer

Ritchie Will Have the Better Punch, but May Not Land It Often

Willie Ritchie looks due for a beating out at Emeryville tomorrow night! That's how good Marty Farrell has shown up in his workouts at Wison's training quarters. The fans waited a long time before they would finally admit that Farrell's training camp stuff was more than a flash, but when he wound up his hard work yesterday, Farrell was admitted on all sides to be about the cleverest looking scrapper who has come this way in some time.

Farrell will not knock out Ritchie—Farrell will not knock out many of his opponents, for his strong forte is not powerful punch, but rather a clever assortment of all the fine points of the boxing game. Farrell will not be hit by many of Ritchie's blows, for the new-comer from the east is the cleverest in dodging an opponent's blows that the bay fans have seen since the days of Jimmy Clabby. In a clinch Farrell is on one side when a blow starts for the other side; he is doubled over backwards when a blow starts for his head; and he is doubled up the other way when a blow starts for his body. So how is a man going to hit him?

The fight bugs have been giving Farrell more than the once-over. They have been looking for his weak points ever since he started working out for the Ritchie bout. For a lot of the boys look good in their workouts until they get in the ring against Ritchie, and then they do not look quite so good. The bay fight fans have come to be a suspicious lot when it comes to picking anybody to beat Ritchie, but finally, on the day before the fight the bay fans seem to be willing to concede that Farrell looks like a better man than Ritchie.

Farrell will not have anything on Ritchie in the way of weight. Both men weigh 154 pounds at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night. This will be a little more of a task for Farrell than for Ritchie, but Ritchie himself will have to do a little weight making—in other words, Ritchie probably could not get into the ring weighing 154 pounds, so he is taking himself, but don't let the Ritchie men make anybody believe that Willie is going into the ring any more under the 154 weight than Farrell will.

With the weights even, the battle looks like the best exhibition of boxing that the fans have been offered in many a moon. When it comes to a punch, the chances are that Ritchie will show the most powerful blow, but when it comes to being a quick fighter, Farrell's speed is the best. Ritchie himself will have to do a little weight making—in other words, Ritchie probably could not get into the ring weighing 154 pounds, so he is taking himself, but don't let the Ritchie men make anybody believe that Willie is going into the ring any more under the 154 weight than Farrell will.

The referee is an uncertainty, no announcement having come as yet from Promoter Tommy Simpson as to whether or not Eddie Flynn will be the third man on the ring. The chances are that Hanson will not be on the job, but who will fill the job is still unknown.

For special events, Simpson has arranged two bouts that look close to being main events in the program. Jack McDevitt is set to meet Arrouze in the semi-windups, and with the improvement of late, nobody around here being found who can figure his clever boxing style, it is hard to say who will win. The word is that South will stop him, but Los Angeles has fallen for a lot of fighters who could not get by around here, so it looks as though Arrouze would not have many possibilities.

Four preliminaries complete the card for tomorrow night, the first bout starting promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

California Football Games For Next 2 Weeks Dropped

Negotiations For Whittier and Occidental Are Left Up in the Air

Football at the University of California is enveloped in a deep gloom today, and no practice of either varsity or freshman squads has yet been announced for the future. The death of George Blewett, full-back of the freshman team, is deeply felt by the whole campus, as Blewett was well-liked at Berkeley.

Games with Whittier and Occidental, southern colleges, were scheduled for the next two Saturdays, but as negotiations for those games have been up in the air for the past week, it is probable that they will be dropped altogether from the schedule. So there will be no intensive activity in the football line at U. C. for the next two weeks.

Although Blewett's death will go down in the lists of football fatalities, the actual accident on the field was slight as injuries go. A fracture of the leg bones below the knee was the actual extent of the injury, the death resulting from a very extraordinary complication. The inquest held yesterday determined that a clot of marrow from the broken bone had somehow worked into a blood vessel and after being carried by the blood was deposited in the brain. The report that Blewett's death was due to an injury to the head received some time ago has been branded as false, as the injured player was in full possession of his mental faculties for nearly twenty-four hours after the accident Saturday.

Rowdy Elliott Will Bring Out Eastern Boxers

Former Oakland Catcher Planning to Get Bouts on Coast for Stars from the East.

Rowdy Elliott, former Oakland catcher, and now a professional gambler, plans of fighters around the coast, according to a report from the East. According to this report, Rowdy will start West within the next couple of weeks and will bring five of the top best boxers whom he can get together for various weight classes. Elliott will probably make matches for his fighters around the bay most of the time in order to be near home, but he will probably make one trip to the Pacific Northwest and another trip to the south to Los Angeles, while he has his scrappers here.

Elliott is close to Justin Fitzgerald of the Seals. Fitz has a fight club in San Mateo, so the chances are that San Mateo will be the place where Elliott will bring the West. One of the old gold-tinged medallions will probably pull them away from San Mateo, and if Rowdy's scrappers turn out to be topnotch, the chances are that he will spend a good part of his time around Emeryville.

Charlie Metrie, a fast coming lightweight, is one of the boys whom Elliott will probably bring West. Metrie has won the heavyweight title in the west, and is looking for a go with Benny Leonard sometime in November. If he can get that bout he will stay in the East; if he cannot hook up with Leonard, Metrie will come West with Elliott and his bunch.

When Comiskey picked Clarence Rowdy Elliott to manage the Chicago White Sox, everyone realized that he had made a wise choice. Elliott is a man of great key. Just now it is admitted that Commy must have known what he was doing at the time.

Comiskey is a great friend and admirer of Muggsy McGraw and likes his methods. McGraw is a great fan of the more intricate phases of the game, but it's unlikely that he knows much more than Comiskey. Comiskey understands McGraw's attitude so well that he will be pretty certain of anything that Jawn is holding up his sleeve.

S. P. Bowling Team Piles Up Big Lead In First Two Strings

Southern Pacific bowlers took the Louis Cafe team into the lead in the first two strings with a total pin score of 264 to 234. The railroad bunch took the first two strings, but eased up on the third when safely out in front by nearly 100 pins. The losers rolled the high average, 183. Webber of the railroad team rolled the high single string, 210. The scores:

$10,000 Purse to Be Given Red Cross

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9.—Which

ever of the crack three-year-olds, Hourless or Omar Khayyam comes first under the wire in the match race at Laurel Thursday, the Red Cross will be the winner of the $10,000 purse hung up by the Maryland Fair Association for what is expected to be the biggest turf event of the year. Following the receipt of a telegram this afternoon from August Belmont, owner of Hourless, announcing that if his horse won, the purse would go without deduction to the Red Cross, Wilfred Van, owner of Omar Khayyam announced that if his horse won, the Red Cross would get the purse just the same. The winner of the race therefore will be content with the $10,000 championship gold cup offered by E. B. McLean, of Washington.
